THE YEAR IN RETROSPECT

IT HAS BECOME customary to present, in the December News-Letter each year, a summary of Club activities during the twelve months just passed. Looking back over 1945, it grows clear that the year—so crowded with happenings of larger import—was not an altogether uneventful one in the annals of the Club.

During the greater part of the year we adhered to a policy adopted in December 1941 of severely limiting our wartime program. Most of our 1945 activities have therefore been crowded into the latter months of the year.

2      The Book Club of California

At the annual meeting, held June 13, a new board of directors was elected, new officers installed, and plans laid for resuming and extending our customary activities. Some of the results of this reactivated program may already be seen; others will become evident during the coming months.

One of the first problems confronting the Club was that of restoring the membership to its prewar level, and it is pleasant to report that substantial progress in that direction has already been made. Some seventy names were added to the roll during 1945, nearly all of them during the final months of the year.

Two new titles were added to the publication list during the year: Heraldry of New Helvetia, issued in March and promptly oversubscribed, and The King's Orphan, published this month. A third title, Patrick Breen's Diary of the Donner Party, is now in preparation and will be ready in the spring. Also in preparation is a new keepsake series, A Camera in the Gold Rush, a group of twelve extremely interesting gold rush photographs, which will be distributed monthly to the members during 1946. Not the least important innovation of the year was the decision to employ a corresponding secretary, a post which has been admirably filled by Mrs. Elizabeth Downs.

It may be said, therefore, that during 1945 the Club ended a three-year period of necessarily curtailed activity and laid the groundwork for a varied and expanding future program, the results of which should be gratifyingly evident during 1946.

A CHECK-LIST OF CLUB PUBLICATIONS

THE FOLLOWING IS a complete listing (the first since December 1939) of the publications issued by the Club since its founding in 1912. It is published in response to requests from members for an up-to-date check-list, and as an aid to those who plan to add to or complete their collections of Club books. The listing is chronological. Publications now out of print are preceded by an asterisk. A complete check-list of keepsakes—showing what parts of the various series are still available—will be published in the March 1946 News-Letter.

The prices shown are those at which the books were published. In 1939 the Club drastically reduced the prices on all titles then in stock that had been published three years or longer. Most of these have since been sold out. The following are still available, although in most cases only a few copies remain (former prices are in parenthesis): Odes & Sonnets, Clark Ashton Smith ($3.00) $1.00; Lilith, George Sterling ($6.00) $2.00; Continent's End ($15.00) $5.00; The Final Stanza, Lewis Browne ($3.50) $1.17; The Persistence of Poetry, Witter Bynner ($6.00) $2.00; Bierce and the Poe Hoax, Carroll D. Hall ($3.00) $1.00.

MISCELLANY

¶ Late in December the Club announced the publication of A Sojourn in California by the King's Orphan, being the journal and drawings of G. M. Waseurtz of Sandels: 1842-43. Dr. Waseurtz's account of life in California in the early 1840s, and his series of vivid drawings of California scenes, constitute an uncommonly interesting and historically important addition to Californiana. Handsomely printed by The Grabhorn Press in an edition limited to 300 copies, this work promises to rank among the rarest and most desirable of the Club's publications. Members who wish copies and have not yet placed their orders will be well advised to do so at once. More than two-thirds of the available copies were sold in the first fifteen days following publication. Price: $22.50. A duplicate order-card is enclosed.

¶ A Camera in the Gold Rush, the Club's 1946 keepsake series, is in active preparation. The series will consist of twelve folders, each containing a hitherto unknown photograph (reproduced in collotype) of a town or mining scene, made by the pioneer California photographer, R. H. Vance. The series is under the editorship of Edith M. Coulter, authority on the pictorial history of early California, and there will be too a note on Vance by Ansel Adams. Parts One and Two of the series will be distributed to the members in February; the remaining parts will follow monthly through the balance of the year.

¶ With this issue the present editor relinquishes the post he has occupied since the News-Letter was launched in 1933. Upon vacating the editorial chair he sincerely thanks the members for their support and forbearance during the past twelve years, and urges an equal leniency toward the new editor, George L. Harding, who will edit the quarterly during 1946.

THE BOOK CLUB OF CALIFORNIA, founded in 1912, is a non-commercial, non-profit association of booklovers and collectors who have a special interest in Pacific Coast literature and fine printing.

Its chief aims are to further the interests of book collectors in the West, to promote an understanding and appreciation of fine books, and to enhance the pleasures that come from their collection and study. These aims find expression in the following activities.

PUBLICATIONS: The Club publishes two or three books a year, in editions of from 250 to 350 copies, which are sold at cost, and only to members. The publications are selected examples of the work of the foremost fine printers of the West.

KEEPSAKES: Each year the Club issues and distributes to members a series of keepsakes, in six or twelve parts, each of which is designed by a different Pacific Coast Printer. NEWS-LETTER: This quarterly keeps members informed of Club activities and presents in each number brief papers on various phases of book collecting, with special reference to the interests of Western collectors. The News-Letter, like the keepsakes, is supplied without cost to the members.

The Club is limited to six hundred members. When vacancies exist membership is open to all who are in sympathy with its aims and whose applications are approved by the Board of Directors. Regular Membership involves no responsibilities beyond payment of the annual dues of $10.00, there being no initiation fee. Dues date from the month of the member's election.

The Club's policies and activities are governed by a board of directors, elected annually. The present officers and directors are: Flodden W. Heron, President; Morgan A. Gunst, Vice-President; George L. Harding, Treasurer; Oscar Lewis, Secretary; Joseph Henry Jackson, T. M. Lilienthal, Edgar Waite, E. V. Weller, directors.
